

Celebrating the excellence of technical and adult education in Arkansas

(WE-Weekly is an e-mail headline news service provided by the Arkansas Department of Workforce Education.)

HEADLINES

Teacher Recognition

As part of the State Board of Workforce Education and Career Opportunities meeting last week, Business & Marketing Technology recognized teachers from around the state who have participated in pilot programs teaching Oracle, IT Fundamentals and Computer Applications I, II and III.

Following the presentation, the Oracle teachers were invited to a luncheon and presentation hosted by Axcion and given a tour of the company's facility in Little Rock.

Click here for more on this story and photos of the teachers recognized.

Interim Administrator

Mae Robinson is serving as interim administrator at the Hot Springs Rehabilitation Center.

The interim appointment was announced by Arkansas Rehabilitation Services Commissioner John Wyvill following the resignation of Gail Jones.

* * * * *

CALENDAR

MONDAY, DEC. 6

FBLA

The State Executive Council for Future Business Leaders of America is meeting in Little Rock.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 8

Leadership Award

Dr. Steve Franks will be given a National Leadership Award at the Jobs for America's Graduates (JAG) Award Reception in Washington. An awards luncheon will be held the following day.

Rachel Bryant of Sheridan High School will receive a college scholarship at the luncheon for her entry in the Lee Hecht Harrison Holiday Card Contest. Her design was the first runner-up.

THURSDAY, DEC. 9

JAG Leadership Conference

JAG will hold its national student leadership conference in Washington today through Saturday.

* * * *

WE-Weekly* Submissions

The Weekly is distributed on Monday mornings to all DWE staff and is posted on the DWE Web page.